

Greater New York Dental Meeting Awards
2010 Young Researchers Award
to Dr. Emad Al Shwaimi from Saudi Arabia

The Greater New York Dental Meeting in its efforts to publicize high quality researchers and members of the dental profession throughout the world has partnered with the largest Dental meeting in the Middle East, AEEDC Dubai, and the Arab-Asian-African Scientific Dental Alliance (AAASDA).

The AAASDA seeks to raise awareness, recommendations and encourage interaction among the leaders of Arab-Asian-African Dental associations, societies and institutions through the exchange of dialogues and innovative ideas on various dental concerns.

To support the AAASDA's choice of the 2010 Young Researchers Award, the Greater New York Dental Meeting, the largest Dental event in the United States, pledged to honor the winner with a complimentary trip to New York City to visit their Congress and Exposition in November. The 2010 winner, Dr. Emad Al Shwaimi, from Saudi Arabia, was awarded a recognition plaque at the 2010 Celebrity Luncheon on Monday, November 29. He is an Assistant Professor and Consultant in Endodontics, Chairman of Restorative Dental Sciences Department, College of Dentistry, University of Dammam, Saudi Arabia.

The Greater New York Dental Meeting looks forward to supporting the AEEDC winner of the Young Researchers Award in 2011.

Dr. Emad Al Shwaimi is seated on the right side of the Dais (as noted by the arrow) with Dental VIP's from around the world.

Dr. Emad Al Shwaimi receives his award from Dr. John Halikias, General Chairman, Greater New York Dental Meeting.
